Bio:

Mark Wilson is Associate Director of the School of Planning, Design and Construction and a Professor of Urban and Regional Planning at Michigan State University. He also serves as Chair of the International Geographical Union Commission on the Geography of Global Information Society. Wilson has undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Melbourne, and an AM and PhD in Regional Science from the University of Pennsylvania. Research and teaching interests address urban planning, information technology, economic geography, public policy, and nonprofit organizations. Specific research interests focus on three themes: 1) The economic, social, and political dimensions of telecommunications and cyberspace; 2) The planning, land use and economic issues associated with mega events, such as the Olympics and worlds fairs; and 3) The role of nonprofit organizations in urban development and service provision. For additional information visit http://www.mark-wilson.org/